Education is the lamp, which once lighted, moves away the darkness for ages

Dear Parents

One point of concern which brings all the global leaders, philosophers, professionals together on the common ground is that 'education is as important as is food to the body'. It is that investment which gives lifetime return. In past five months world has been through complete lockdown to step by step unlocking but what didn't halt even for a day is the teaching-learning process. Our endeavours are always a step ahead alike our will power. ATL webinar held on 31.08.2020 on Gaming and Coding Education helped bettering the creative and technical skills of students of our school and five more participating schools.

Studios teachers and their diligent students have beaten the unprecedented challenges and have now reached to the mid-term of the online session. The golden rule of making best use of this online platform is self-discipline among the students. It has been observed by the faculty members that some of the students join the classes with multiple IDs. This creates confusion and disturbs the teaching-learning process. Also it has been observed (specifically in the primary classes) that some parents enter the live classes and distract the learning environment. The parents are requested to follow the decorum. We all know little things bring big motivations so let's try to maintain a conducive learning environment.

Another concern of utmost attention is the financial crisis; which are no more a hidden case. This trying time has made us all struggle but it is responsibility of all the stakeholders that no member of the DAV family suffers. At every step we try to reach the parents in the most transparent manner. A private institution like ours is completely dependent the fund received through the monthly fee submission. Monthly fee collected facilitates cash flow; allow salaries and other expenses to be disbursed. In this respect we appreciate the support extended by most of our parents and we earnestly request all the parents to settle fee payments timely. A prompt attention in this respect will be highly appreciated.

This cooperation will enable us to support the members of DAV family who go beyond their limitations and meet both ends to help out our young minds to the best possible. Shifting from Microsoft Teams to Google Meets is an outcome of these financial crunches.

It is sincerely hoped that we would make best of our abilities without having any member suffered. Parents are always welcomed for any sort of progressing suggestions.

Above all let's take all the necessary safety measures to keep us all safe.

Regards
